'Brian Castle's sensitive, prayerful and well-researched approach emphasises reconciliation as a process and illustrates some of the major challenges this presents to people of Christian faith in today's complex world. The questions for discussion have been carefully and clearly chosen providing the reader with an excellent basis for further thought.'
Lord Eames OM, former Archbishop of Armagh

Reconciling One and All is a Lent book which will encourage readers to reflect on their own journeys towards reconciliation as they engage with the journeys of other people, communities and movements. Working for reconciliation, whether it is political, social, ecological, personal, intra-personal or with God (and all these areas are inextricably linked) it is essential to explore the issues of memory, forgiveness, victimhood and involvement with the other. By these means, it is shown that God offers to individuals, world and church a distinctive form of reconciliation, bringing fresh understandings and transformation, which is, indeed, God's gift.

Brian Castle is Bishop of Tonbridge. He has been a parish priest both in Britain and in Zambia. He has lectured at the Ecumenical Institute of the World Council of Churches in Geneva and was Vice-Principal of Ripon College Cuddesdon, Oxford.
